NEAT CLUB ROOMS ATTACHED

The imbecility of some men is always inviting the embrace of death. It is the delight of such men to boast of what "tough fellows" they are, and tell how they overwork themselves and how they neglect little disorders and little illnesses that put other people on their backs.

It may not sound nice to say so, but it is a fact that the average man is just that kind of a boastful, cheerful idiot. If his head aches, it isn't worth paying any attention to; if he feels dull and drowsy during the day, it isn't worth serious consideration; if he is troubled with sleeplessness at night, he does himself with opiates. When he suffers from nervousness, he walks into the nearest drug store and orders powerful medicines that even a physician prescribes with care. He is a very knowing fellow, but without knowing it, he is hugging death. There is a wonderful restorative tonic and health-builder that will keep the hardest working man in good working shape; it is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is made of pure native roots and barks. It contains no minerals, no narcotics and no opiates. It simply aids nature in the natural processes of secretion and excretion. It tones up the stomach and facilitates the flow of digestive juices. It makes a man "hungry as a horse" and then sees to it that the life-giving elements of the food he takes are assimilated into the blood. It invigorates the liver. It drives out all impurities and disease germs from the system. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It is the best of all nerve tonics. It cures bronchial, throat and lung affections as well.

"I had indigestion and a torpid liver," writes Mrs. A. L. Gibbs, of Russellville, Logan County, Ky. "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured me."

If constipation is also present, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken. They never fail; they never gripe. Druggists sell both medicines.

The Country Clergyman.

"An old clergyman who had held a cure in the depths of the country for the greater part of his life had occasion to consult his bishop on a certain matter, and, in answer to his letter, received an invitation to sleep the night at the palace. For 40 or 50 years he had practically led the life of a recluse, and it was after many cogitations that he decided to take the journey to the other end of the diocese, where the bishop lived. He arrived just in time for 5 o'clock tea, a meal to which he was a complete stranger.

After tea the bishop asked him to accompany him to evensong. When they returned to the house, the bishop, remarking that it was quite time they went up stairs, lit a candle and showed his guest to his room. It was then just 7 o'clock, and, though the old clergyman thought it was rather early to retire, still, admiring the bishop for such simple habits, he prepared for bed. He had just put out the light and lain down to sleep, wishing he had drunk a little more tea, when a booming noise rang through the house and smote upon his ear.

Quick as thought he sprang from his bed and, shouting "Fire!" at the top of his voice, rushed out on to the landing just in time to meet the bishop, with a lady on his arm, going down to dinner. The sequel to the story has never been divulged.—Cornhill Magazine.

A Lost Opportunity.

It was near one of the large railroad stations. A man rather advanced in years, whose old fashioned attire and open mouthed wonderment proclaimed that he was a visitor from the rural districts and not accustomed to the everyday sights of a large city, was suddenly accosted by a sharp visaged youth with, "Mister, yer dropped yer wallet." As he spoke he held forth a large wallet well stuffed with old revenue stamps covered with a couple of dollar bills.

Uncle Rube looked at the greenbacks bulging out of the wallet with equally protruding eyes, hesitated just one moment, and then, his cupidity evidently getting the better of him, reached for it. "Hold on; give us a tanner first," exclaimed the possessor of the wallet.

The old man quickly put his hand in his trousers pocket; but, after a moment, drawing forth his empty hand, he drawled out, "Take it out o' the wallet."

The youth, closing the wallet with ill concealed disgust, turned on his heel and hurried off. The stranger in town looked after the youth a moment, and then, muttering, "God dern! Missed it ag'in. I told Sal I'd need more'n $3," he resumed his peaceful way.—Philadelphia Record.

Really a Kind Man.

"Did you see anything of a pocket-book that I dropped somewhere in the bedroom I occupied last night, landlord?"

"Any money in it?"
"About $100."

"Yes, sir. Here is your pocketbook, with the money. The maid was honest enough to bring it to me, and I locked it up in the safe."

"Ah, very correct proceeding, very. I had intended placing the money in the bank this morning, where it would have been drawing 4 per cent. As a reward for your honesty I will say nothing about the interest for the time it has been in your possession, and you can make it square with the chambermaid. There is nothing small about me when I run across a man who seems to be trying to do what's right."—London Telegraph.

Flattering.

Reggie's fiancée—You know, Reggie, that girls are being called by the names of flowers now, and my sister suggested that I should be called Thistle.

Reggie—Oh, yes, I see—because you are so sharp.

She—Oh, no! She said it was because a donkey loved me.—Pick Me Up.

Negro Development.

Medical researches show that in a general way white children exhibit more diversity in their measurements and the negro more uniformity, this becoming even more marked with age. Thus, the negro children are taller at the same age than the whites, but there are no marked differences up to the age of about 14. The size of the head is somewhat smaller in the negro, teeth are stronger and healthier and more regular, and the cutting period more strongly defined. There is a decided negro ear, which is smaller and has a drooping upper lobe, often with an angle. The negro body is less fat and has relatively more muscular development in both sexes. The arm spread is greater and hands and feet both average longer. The thighs are more prominent in the middle, and the legs are straighter.

It used to happen in Java that, owing to want of transportation facilities, the inhabitants of one part of the island might be starving while those of another had as much rice as they could eat. Railways have remedied that state of affairs.

The first permanent military force in England was the king's guard of yeomen, established in 1486.

Not Exact.

In one of Miss Mulock's stories she says that "a cheerful heart seethes cheerful things," and gives this incident in proof of it:

A lady and gentleman were in a lumber yard situated by a dirty, foul smelling river. The lady said, "How good the pine boards smell!"
"Pine boards!" exclaimed the gentleman. "Just smell that foul river."
"No, thank you," was the reply, "I prefer to smell the pine boards."

Rough on the Solons.

It was in Maine that an outspoken parson of the old school prayed: "O Lord, have compassion on our bewildered representatives and senators. They have been sitting and sitting and have hatched nothing O Lord, let them arise from their nests and go home and all the praise shall be thine."

Figures have been collected in a suburb of Berlin showing that 44 per cent of all the children work two to three hours at home before school hours.

By the howls emanating from it, we judge that the baby is not cutting teeth, but that the teeth are cutting the baby.—Philadelphia Times.

BRYAN THE LEADER.

The incomparable Bryan will return to politics with his influence strengthened, if anything, by his army experience. He is to-day as clearly the leader of the Democracy of the Nation as he was before the war broke out. Nearly all of the Democratic members of Congress have been questioned on this point and with scarcely an exception have decided for the Bryan leadership. It is Bryan and the Chicago platform until other issues clearly present themselves.

And it is certain to be Bryan when other issues do present themselves. There is no other person known in the Democratic party who combines so many of the qualities of a successful party leader as Bryan has shown himself to possess. His record on public questions, moreover, is such as to make him, in almost any possible turn of affairs, the most available leader, even in the improbable, and almost impossible event of the silver question being made a secondary issue, two years hence. Bryan's opposition to colonialism and championship of the income tax and of measures to restrain the power of corporate wealth, bring him easily into an advantageous and consistent position of attack upon the course of the McKinley Administration, its faithlessness to Republican principles and traditions, and its tax policy by which the immense burden of colonialism is thrown mostly upon the poor.

While perhaps the Democratic party will have to make some additions to its platform of 1896 to meet the new war issues, it appears as certain as fate that Bryan, if he lives, will retain the leadership.

HIGH OR LOW CHAIR.

In the fifties in California the shooting and cutting element was divided into two classes, "high chair" and "low chair." We believe it was witty Jim Cofforth who said they were distinguishable in the fact that the "high chair" threatened to "blow the top of your head off," while the "low chair" invariably "cut the g—s out of you." It would perhaps be interesting to our legislators to know to which class Colonels Chubb and Nagle belong. They could then take the necessary precautions either by providing bullet-proof helmets for their caputs or mailed shirts for the protection of their intestines.

A GREATER EVIL.

The Appeal advocates the forcible ejection of Indians from Carson before sunset every evening on account of the hostile and threatening proclivities developed by them.

There is another element at the capital city more dangerous to the peace and reputation of the town, than the poor Washoe, whose greatest crime is his proneness for grub and fire water. Rid your city of the greater before turning your attention to the lesser evil.

COL. DAN BURNS of Mexico is a candidate for United States Senator in California. He is unfitted by education, morals and every other attribute which ought to commend a man for the position he seeks. He is merely a pot house politician, and the respectable people of California are up in arms against such an indignity and disgrace as his election would inflict upon their State. He is a Republican and is supported by the same power that controlled the Silver party conventions in Nevada and which is endeavoring to again force upon the people its pliant tool and Congressional Attorney, William M. Stewart of California. The indications are that Burns will be defeated. Let the Nevada Legislature avert a still greater disgrace to their State than the election of Burns would inflict upon our sister commonwealth across the mountains.

The Elko Independent accuses Mr. Newlands of coming in like a thief in the night and stealing the "fruits of Stewart's victory"—Stewart's victory! The Spanish victory at St. Iago! Bone-comie's victory at Waterloo! And yet this is the kind of stuff that the Stewart papers are trying to force down the throats of the people of the State, a most election returns which show that the Stewart legislative tickets were so badly snowed under in the State as to leave him less than half the number of votes to compose a majority in the joint convention. Stewart's victory, indeed! Defeated at the polls, his only hope of scoring a victory lies in the purchase or intimidation by hiring ruffians of members pledged to vote against him. Is such predated victory the one that Mr. Newlands is accused of stealing the fruits of?

The Elko Independent has come out squarely for Francis G. Newlands for United States Senator. It is gratifying to notice that two young men born and raised in Nevada, as were the publishers of the Argonaut, should feel impelled to assist in freeing their native State from the odium, bondage and disgrace to which she has been so long subjected by the power which is again attempting to force upon our people that epitome of all that is corrupt, venal and degrading, Wm. M. Stewart, attorney for the Southern Pacific corporation in the United States Senate.

The JOURNAL has lost four subscribers because of its stand on the Senatorial fight, and has gained nearly twenty for each one lost. This is a straw for Stewart's supporters to grab

SUPPOSE when Newlands is elected United States Senator, the Southern Pacific should order Stewart to make a fight for the vacant place in the Lower House. And suppose still further that he should be able to bulldoze the Silver party into giving him the nomination. Can any of his present supporters for Senator, name any man in either the Democratic or Republican party, so weak before the people that he could not snuff the "grand old man" under by a greater ratio than 16 to 1?

The Lovelock Tribune says if elected Senator, Newlands might vote right, but that is a small part in the struggle for bimetalism. The Tribune forgets that that is where Stewart has always fallen down. He is too long on promises and too short on performance.—Times-Review.

The Tuscarora Times-Review comes out strongly for Newlands as against Stewart, and is publishing the best and most forcible articles of any paper in the State in support of its choice.

How To Look Good.

Stewart's Printing Done in Washington.
The Appeal this morning comes out with a two page supplement with snaps and snarls at Stewart's opponents.
One thing worthy of note regarding this supplement, for we suppose there will be more of them, is that it was not printed in Nevada. It is not the handiwork of Nevada labor, which Stewart loves so well, its issue did not give an hour's work to Nevada hands, but it was printed in the East where labor is cheap and paper is cheap. Nevada is good enough to call home for a brief period every six years, but when Stewart has a little money to spend for legitimate expenses Nevada need not expect to get it. The work on this supplement is of a character that can be done in any printing office in the State that deserves the name of printing office.

The contents of the supplement are such that if Stewart will send 1000 copies of it to the News we will be happy to circulate them among News subscribers, confident that they will assist in the defeat of the "grand old fraud."
—Carson News.
We beg leave to correct you neighbor. The cost of material and work was not considered by Wm. M. Stewart. We are of the opinion that he could not get the work done in the State without payment in advance hence the importation of political literature.

FIRST VICTORY FOR NEWLANDS.

Scheme to Read W. E. Sharon Out of the Silver Party Meets With Defeat.

STEWART SHOWS HIS TEETH

Terms Committeemen as "Cowards" and a "Pack of Ingrates" for Refusing to Stoop to Contemptible Jobbery.

(Special to the JOURNAL.)

CARSON CITY, Jan. 12.—The Newlands' forces scored the first victory in the Senatorial fight to-day. Wallace, the railroad lobbyist, and Stewart had planned a job to secure control of the State Central committee and depose W. E. Sharon, who is chairman of the State Central committee of the Silver party, and the friend and manager of Newlands. To secure this action, a call was issued for a meeting of the State Central committee to meet at Carson to-day.

Wallace had secured proxies throughout the State for the meeting and supposed he had absolute control. While the call for the meeting was ostensibly for the purpose of discussing the Governorship contest, the real purpose was to read Sharon out of the party. The Wallace-Stewart crowd offered a resolution to the effect that W. E. Sharon, the chairman of the State Central committee, be deposed, because he was opposing the re-election of W. M. Stewart for the United States Senate. The committee consists of fifty members. There were only fifteen genuine members of the committee present, the rest being proxies and proxy holders. Two friends of Sharon made a vigorous protest and Sharon himself made a statement and showed that Wallace and the railroad were the real enemies of the Silver party, and that the very men who were putting up the job were the men who in two years proposed to turn the Silver party adrift and destroy it.

"If," said Mr. Sharon, "I am to be deposed and read out of the party on the grounds of treachery because I oppose Stewart, why should you not read Stewart out of the party because he opposed and played treacherously with Newlands in the late campaign?"

The committee were disposed to take no action in the matter and finally postponed action for a week, under a new call, which will state the purpose of the meeting and prevent a proxy meeting. The first skirmish has resulted in a Newlands' victory and Wallace is disgruntled at the failure of his plans. Recent developments show that both Stewart and Wallace secretly planned the defeat of Newlands by securing the nomination of a Republican with the promise of railroad support. Failing in this, they tried to elect a Populist, whom they supplied with campaign material and funds.

Wallace and Stewart are making a vigorous fight but will lose the organization of the legislature. In an interview with Senator Stewart, he denounced the committee as "damned cowards," and said they were a pack of ingrates. The failure of his plan to depose Sharon and condemn Newlands has created great disappointment. The true position of the Stewart fighters is being found out and the incoming members of the legislature are resenting strongly such radical action as reading out of their party such men as Sharon, who was one of the first Silver men in the State.

The fact that Wallace has been planning this coup for weeks and has signally failed at the critical moment is considered significant as indicating the weakness of Stewart. The committee was supposed to be packed for a series of resolutions but the failure to oust Sharon disconcerted it so that they abandoned any further attempt to carry out their plans.

The railroad forces have claimed all along that Col. Jack Chinn had been sent here as representative of the National Democratic committee. The local Democratic organization resented this interference on the part of the National organization, as their State platform condemned Stewart in no temperate language. So they wired Chairman J. K. Jones for an explanation. He replied at once that Chinn was not sent here by the Democratic party and in no way represented them and all statements to the contrary were absolutely false.

Mon. A. C. Cleveland, a candidate for Senator also, is ill at the Arlington with a threatened attack of pneumonia and his friends fear that his illness will seriously affect his fight.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

Governor Sadler Assured the Loyal Support of the Committee in His Contest. (JOURNAL Carson Correspondent.)

The Silver Party State Central Committee met at Carson yesterday afternoon. There was a fair attendance of members of the Committee, in fact the several counties in the State were represented by committeemen, but representation by proxy made up the greater portion of the attendance. The call for the meeting was made to consider ways and means in aiding Governor Sadler to contest his rights as Governor elect, and also to consider possible contests of the legislative seats.

W. E. Sharon, Chairman, called the meeting to order and after the preliminaries of opening were concluded, Governor Sadler was called upon to state the situation regarding his contest. He presented his case fully and made a rousing silver speech, claiming the moral support of his party on the grounds of his loyalty and earnest work during the campaign. Others present testified to the Governor's good work and the Governor finally ratified by motion the appointment of a committee, consisting of one from each county to aid the Governor in every way possible and he was also assured the support of the Committee.

There was no action taken regarding legislative matters.

A resolution was introduced calling for the resignation of Chairman Sharon but after a long discussion the Committee adjourned to meet at Carson on next Thursday the 19th at 2 o'clock without acting on the resolution, it being advisable to call a meeting of the full Committee before taking action on so serious a matter.

IMPORTED GUN FIGHTERS.

Not Needed in Nevada to Decide Political Contests.

From appearances the Senatorial contest at Carson will be a hot and bitter one. It is to be regretted, however, that one of the contestants is alleged to have deemed it necessary to import gun fighters to aid him in his contest.

If men were brought to Carson for that purpose it is an outrage against the dignity of the commonwealth that should be resented by every citizen of the State, and the fighters should be waited upon by a committee of stalwart men and ordered to leave forthwith and such action should be taken if any overt act be attempted.

The people of this State are capable of managing their own affairs and if its authority is defied are at all times ready to defend it against all comers. —Virginia Chronicle.

Daniel Sully's "Uncle Rob"

The Irishman's wit is the more brilliant because it glitters through a tear drop. For years this line has been a favorite with authors, and for years the many interested in the truthful portrayal of Irish character have looked for its exemplification on the stage. Plays of promise have come and gone. The Irish character in some cases has emerged from the libel's grave given him in stage land, but at last Daniel Sully has created the character for which he has long sought and the public anxiously awaited. The tear drop glitters, but its brightness is dimmed by the brilliancy of the wit which flashes forth before the tear has reached the cheek. "Uncle Rob," the leading character in Mr. Sully's play of that name is the Irishman we meet in business, in the club, and in the home. He has fought for this land of his adoption, and bears the scars of battle. He has struggled in business and met with reverses without having his milk of kindness soured, or his confidence in men shaken. His friends disappointed him, but he throws over them the mantle of forgiveness and thrusts beneath it the hand of assistance. His humor has been ripened by years and his wit is as unexpected as his sudden rising to successfully battle a great business upheaval. He has taken to his home the child of his old friend and made her a member of his family. His love for his mother is as ardent as a school boy's. And his children are his idols. And so at last comes the real Irishman—the Irishman that has used his muscle as his beginning, but his brain as the pilot wheel of his ship of life. What a relief to every Irishman, and every Irishman's son—what a relief to the stage.

Capes and Jackets.
The gigantic clearance sale of capes and jackets at the Palace Dry Goods House is in full operation, and many have already taken advantage of the very low prices at which these garments are offered. There are still quite a few left, and we would advise anyone in need of a cape or jacket to go to the Palace and invest. Look at the window displays.

The Benefit of Football.
The average gain or loss in weight muscular measurements, and strength are strikingly shown in the following table, the first column containing the results of eleven football players and the second column the results of six students not in training. All these men were measured during the first two weeks of September 1898 that is, before football work begun at the University of Nevada, and were measured for the second time during the first week of December just following; the close of the football season, conditions of measuring being the same at both times.

	AGE	WEIGHTS	21-7	19-7	STRENGTH

There are but three measurements which show any marked gain and these are the girths of the chest just below the 9th rib, one measurement taken when the chest was natural the other when the chest was full of air after a full inhalation. But by close examination you find that the real range of breathing (from the natural to full inhalation) has increased much more in the football player. 1.31 inches as compared with 1.15 gain. The other measurement is that of strength of left forearm non-football player gaining twice as much as the football man.

"Under the Dome."

The scene in "Under the Dome" in which the U. S. ship Trenton, after a mighty struggle with wind and wave, finally is thrown high upon the beach, is one which can never fail to arouse the latent patriotism in even the most phlegmatic American citizen. This scene is historically correct, according to the testimony of many who have seen the play and who, themselves, were sharers in the terror of that awful night and day in the harbor of Apia. The men of the Trenton, one and all, displayed unexampled bravery. History does not record a more divinely unselfish action than that of these men, who tossing helplessly on the mighty waves, expecting nothing but speedy death, saw the collapse slowly but surely gaining the open sea and comparative safety, and sent after it a mighty cheer of encouragement. Again when all hope had been abandoned and the men patiently awaited the fatal moment, the band assembled on deck and the ringing notes of the Star Spangled Banner did defiance to the storm. "Under the Dome" is to be the next attraction at McKissick's Opera House to-night.

An Interesting Case.

All people are interested in a new case that has recently cropped up in Reno, and they have good reason for being so. This case contains many striking features. It is Mr. F. P. Dann's show case on Virginia street, down by the iron bridge. It is very beautiful, his new window display, of all that is modern in photography. There one may see large opalotypes, small autotypes and lovely porcelains. Just think! Artistic photographs on genuine porcelain. And what do you think of this? He makes photographs on handkerchiefs—silk handkerchiefs. What more appropriate present could be imagined than one of these with your photo on it?

Closing out sale of capes, jackets and carpets at Emerich's; above articles will positively be sold out, regardless of cost, and anyone in need of these goods will do exceptionally well and save money. jan1w1
